

Terms of Service

Last updated September 8, 2026

Agreement

By using the Inspire Wellness STL app or website ("the App"), you agree to these Terms. If you don't agree, please don't use the App.

Not medical advice

The App provides general wellness guidance — meal ideas, movement suggestions, and supplement information — based on your quiz answers. This is not medical advice, and the App is not a substitute for consulting a doctor, registered dietitian, or other qualified health professional. Talk to your doctor before making significant changes to your diet, exercise routine, or supplement use, especially if you are pregnant, nursing, have a medical condition, take medication, or are making decisions on behalf of a child.

You use any plan, suggestion, or recommendation from the App at your own risk. Inspire Wellness STL is not liable for any injury, adverse reaction, or other harm that results from following guidance generated by the App.

Supplement recommendations

Any supplement named in the App is a suggestion only, drawn from our own product line. These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. Our products are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease. Read the actual product label before use and consult a healthcare provider if you have questions about whether a supplement is right for you.

Age of use

The App is intended for general audiences and does not ask your age anywhere today. Anyone under 18 should still have a parent or guardian's involvement in using the App. See our Privacy Policy for how we handle personal information generally.

The App itself; disclaimer of warranties

The App and everything it generates (meal plans, movement suggestions, and supplement recommendations) are provided "AS IS" and "AS AVAILABLE," without warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, including the implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, and non-infringement. We do not warrant that the App will be uninterrupted, error-free, or that any generated plan will achieve any particular result for you.

Purchases

Any purchase you make happens on our store, operated separately from the App. Purchases are subject to that store's own terms, return policy, and payment processing — the App itself does not process payments or store payment information.

Accounts and data

The App does not require you to create a traditional account. It uses an anonymous, device-based identifier to save your quiz results and generated plans across visits. See our Privacy Policy for what that means in practice — these Terms incorporate that Privacy Policy by reference.

Acceptable use

You agree not to use the App to:

- Attempt to access another visitor's saved data.
- Interfere with or disrupt the App's operation (including automated abuse of the quiz or AI plan-generation feature).
- Use the App for any unlawful purpose.

Intellectual property

The App's content — including its design, quiz questions, recipes, and generated recommendations — belongs to Inspire Wellness STL.

Changes to the App or these Terms

We may update the App or these Terms at any time. Continued use of the App after a change means you accept the updated Terms. If we make a material change, we will update the "Last updated" date above.

Limitation of liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Inspire Wellness STL is not liable for any indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages arising from your use of the App, even if advised of the possibility of such damages. Nothing in these Terms limits any liability that cannot be limited under applicable Missouri or federal law.

Governing law

These Terms are governed by the laws of the State of Missouri, without regard to its conflict of law principles, and without limiting any rights you may have under the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act (Mo. Rev. Stat. §§ 407.010–407.307) or applicable federal consumer protection law.

Dispute resolution: binding arbitration and class action waiver

PLEASE READ THIS SECTION CAREFULLY. IT AFFECTS YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS, INCLUDING YOUR RIGHT TO GO TO COURT AND YOUR RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION. YOU CAN OPT OUT — SEE "HOW TO OPT OUT" BELOW.

Agreement to arbitrate. You and Inspire Wellness STL (operated by Apex Forge) each agree that any dispute, claim, or controversy arising out of or relating to the App, these Terms, the Privacy Policy, or any plan, recipe, or product the App recommends (a "Claim") will be resolved by binding, individual arbitration rather than in court, except as described below. This agreement to arbitrate is mutual — it binds Inspire Wellness STL exactly as it binds you.

What's not covered. Either side may instead bring a qualifying individual Claim in small claims court. Either side may also go to court to seek an injunction to stop unauthorized use of intellectual property or unauthorized access to the App's systems — a narrow exception, not a route around arbitrating everything else.

Talk to us first. Before starting an arbitration, you agree to first describe the Claim and what would resolve it to us, through the contact method at inspirewellnessstl.com; we'll do the same if we have a Claim against you. Either side may start arbitration if the Claim isn't resolved within 60 days.

How arbitration works. Arbitration is administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") under its Consumer Arbitration Rules, and governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (9 U.S.C. §§ 1–16) regardless of where you live. The arbitrator, not a court, decides threshold questions about arbitrability, consistent with the AAA Rules. Arbitration is conducted by phone, videoconference, or written submissions wherever the AAA Rules permit it, or in person in the county where you reside if you request an in-person hearing. Inspire Wellness STL will pay all AAA filing, administrative, and arbitrator fees for your Claim, beyond the modest consumer filing fee set by the AAA Consumer Arbitration Rules, unless the arbitrator finds your Claim frivolous.

Class action and jury trial waiver. YOU AND INSPIRE WELLNESS STL EACH WAIVE THE RIGHT TO A JURY TRIAL AND THE RIGHT TO BRING OR PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS, CONSOLIDATED, OR REPRESENTATIVE ACTION. Claims must be brought individually, not as a plaintiff or class member in any purported class, consolidated, or representative proceeding, and the arbitrator may not preside over any form of a class or representative proceeding or combine more than one person's Claim without everyone's consent. If a large number of similar Claims are filed against Inspire Wellness STL around the same time by coordinated counsel, they will be administered under whichever mass- or multi-case arbitration rules the AAA has in effect at that time, which govern how such Claims are batched, staged, and fee-assessed. If this class action waiver is found unenforceable as to a particular Claim, the agreement to arbitrate that specific Claim (and only that Claim) is void and it may proceed in court instead — never as a class or representative arbitration. This sentence controls over the "Severability" section below for this specific scenario.

How to opt out. You can opt out of this entire "Dispute resolution" section — nothing else in these Terms — by sending written notice through the contact method at inspirewellnessstl.com, clearly stating that you're opting out of arbitration and identifying yourself (e.g., the approximate date and device you used). Send it within 30 days of whichever is later: the date this section first became part of these Terms, or the first time you accepted these Terms. Opting out doesn't affect anything else in these Terms, and you can opt out even if you never arbitrated anything.

This section survives if your use of the App ends, and survives even if some other part of these Terms is found unenforceable.

Severability

If any provision of these Terms is found by a court to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, that provision will be limited or removed to the minimum extent necessary, and the remaining provisions will continue in full force and effect.

Entire agreement

These Terms, together with the Privacy Policy they incorporate by reference, are the entire agreement between you and Inspire Wellness STL regarding the App, and supersede any prior agreements about the App's subject matter.
